CONFERENCE TOUR BACK TO SHANTUNG

Japan and China Said To Be Near Agreement—Open Session With In A Week Probable.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 25.—Having traveled from Siberia to the outlying islands of the Pacific and agreed upon virtually all disputed points, the armament conference came back to Shantung today as the one big outstanding obstacle to completion of the program and adjournment.

There are a multitude of "odds and ends" relating to China and the various treaties yet to clean up, but they are admittedly matters of time and detail, rather than real differences that require diplomatic intervention.

Every effort will now be bent toward getting China and Japan into agreement on Shantung. Members of the American delegation said today that the two delegations were "very close together" and that an agreement might be expected at any moment. The apparent optimism in American and British quarters, however, was not reflected among China's delegates.

The Chinese situation is admittedly still full of "dynamite," despite the rapid progress of the conference as a whole and the approaching adjournment.

While publicly hoping for the best, the Chinese delegates privately intimate that if Shantung and the 21 demands go against them in the closing days, they will have no recourse than to duplicate their action in Paris—refuse to sign the treaty. All else that the conference has done for China will be of no avail, the Chinese assert, unless Shantung is returned to them, and unless Japan is forced to relinquish to some degree the hold she obtained in Manchuria and Mongolia through the 21 demands.

The negotiations over Shantung were not renewed today, in order that the full Far East committee might have a clear field to gather up all the loose ends of its agreements. They will be renewed tomorrow, with enormous pressure on both Chinese and Japanese to speed up and adjustment.

The Chinese or nine-power treaty remained today as the one important conference document which is not in definite form. It must wait until the settlement of Shantung and whatever consideration the powers are going to give the 21 demands. The naval treaty will be augmented by an exchange of notes between the five powers concerned, defining the limits of Japan proper and the fortifications zones of the Pacific. The four-power Pacific treaty will have a codicil tacked onto it, taking the Japanese homeland out of the treaty.

An open session of the conference to approve formally the naval treaty and the Siberian policies of the United States and Japan, is probable within a week, it was said today in American quarters.

GARLAND LOSES HIS OTHER "MATE"

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Jan. 25.—Charles Garland, eccentric young millionaire, has lost his "love mate."

Today Miss Lillian Conrad, with whom he planned to soar to a "higher spiritual plane," undeterred by his wife and baby daughter or by the possibility of prosecution on statutory grounds, was being cared for by a Boston family. She had been placed there by the Tide-Over League of Boston. The young woman will continue her studies at the School of Applied Arts.

"This is a case where I feel the past should be forgotten," said Miss Mary Irving Husted, director of the school. In discussing Miss Conrad's case, "The Tide-Over League" will stand by Miss Conrad provided that she does not return to live with Garland. I don't think that there is any danger of her doing that."

Garland now finds himself faced with the probability of living alone with his ideals on his North Carver farm. His wife, who was Mary Wrenn, left him and with their child is living with friends in Dedham.

FIRE AT UNIONTOWN CAUSES $250,000 LOSS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 25.—Fire starting in the heart of this city early today destroyed six business buildings and damaged several others, causing an estimated loss of $250,000. The fire is said to have started in the kitchen of a restaurant. A high wind spread the flames. At 5 o'clock this morning, the fire was still burning though believed under control. It started at 3 o'clock.

Fined $5 for Cruelty.

Benjamin Meyers of No. 78 West Union street was fined $5 in police court this morning by Judge Schrick when he pleaded guilty to a charge of cruelty to animals. He was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Officer Bout who found Meyers driving a truck with a cow tied in the box in such a position that the animal was unable to move.

A Variety Supper.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Ponce de Leon Union church, will serve a variety supper on Friday, January 27, from 5 to 8 o'clock. An excellent menu has been arranged.

PRINCESS MARY'S FABULOUS GIFTS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 25.—No other royal bride in the history of modern England has received so many wedding gifts as Princess Mary, only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, who will be married to Viscount Lascelles in Westminster Abbey by the Archbishop of Canterbury on February 28.

So numerous are the gifts that there will not be room in Buckingham Palace to exhibit them as they will be shown at St. James Palace. The range from spruce of leather from Scotland and shawls from Ireland, to gorgeous pieces of jewelry costing gigantic sums of money.

The princess by her old-fashioned virtues, has endeared herself to the people of the United Kingdom. She has never visited the overseas dominions, but her popularity in the outer lands of the empire is attested by the numerous presents coming from Canada, India, Australia and Egypt.

It was the original intention of the king and queen to hold an afternoon reception at St. James Palace shortly before the wedding, but this plan likely will be abandoned owing to the large number of invitations. As spacious as it is, the reception suite of the old palace (as St. James is known), would not be large enough to entertain all the guests. It is likely that two or three separate receptions will be held on various afternoons at Buckingham Palace.

The princess, like any ordinary girl, is in a flutter of excitement over her approaching nuptials. Every day she consults with her mother on various plans, mostly concerning the trousseau. Viscount Lascelles calls daily to pay his respects to his bride-to-be and her parents. He sends elaborate bouquets of flowers daily and frequently gifts of rich candies.

When the lord mayor of Liverpool sent word to the princess that the municipality wished to send her a gift and asked her what she would prefer, she replied that she would appreciate a plain narrow diamond bracelet. This present is being sent to London. When all the gifts are in, the princess will have enough jewelry to satisfy half a dozen maidens. Most of the gifts of jewelry are pendants, bracelets, rings, strings of pearls, watches, brooches, plain gems and pins. These don't include the ornamental gifts for household use.

ENGLISH SHIPBUILDER SCORES U. S. SHIP SUBSIDY PLAN.

"Underhand Blow at Heart of England" he Says.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 25.—"It is an affront to the heart of England and an indirect underhand plot against British shipbuilding," declared Sir Edward Mackay, director of the great shipbuilding firm of Workman & Clark, in commenting today upon the Washington report of the Harding-Lasker plan for an American shipbuilding subsidy.

News of the proposed subsidy created a sensation in British shipping circles.

"No news could be worse from an international viewpoint," said Sir Edward. "It is especially disagreeable at this time when shipping is undergoing such hard times."

"What is the use of President Harding initiating conferences directed toward the fostering of international good will when simultaneously he tries to stab Britain—our chief competitor in the world—Shipbuilding is England's basic industry. It is her commercial life. Thereby we stand or fall."

"We do not mind business competition. We welcome it. We recognize that a large section of American opinion is determined to secure a large mercantile marine regardless of the cost. But this is not fair competition."

"It is an underhand blow and it is directed at England's very existence. But we shall not worry. British shipping will always hold its own. Nevertheless, no more absurd suggestion could have been made if America wishes to have the warm friendship of England. Nor could there have been any suggestion more hostile to England."

FORD'S ROAD ASKS LEAVE TO ISSUE BONDS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 25.—Henry Ford's railroad, the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to issue $451,000 of first mortgage fifty-year five per cent gold bonds, maturing March 1, 1964. The proceeds are to be used to reimburse the road's treasury for expenditures made between July 1, 1920 and July 1, 1921 for additions and betterments to the road including additional terminal facilities.

CALLS FOR NEW AUTO LEGISLATION

Lowman's Committee Finds Need of Special State Commissioner and Statewide License—Headlight Law a Farce.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Legislation designed to provide for a state motor vehicle commissioner, and a sufficient number of inspectors to strictly enforce traffic and motor vehicle laws, was recommended in a report filed with the legislature today by a joint committee headed by Senator Seymour Lowman, of Chemung.

The report also recommends a state-wide system of licensing automobile drivers. In an effort to reduce motor accidents, it discloses that during 1921, 1,981 persons were killed outright in the public highways of the state by automobiles, and that 40,000 persons were injured. In this connection the report commends the New York city police, saying that a greater proportion of the deaths and accidents occurred outside the greater city.

"Our headlight law is a farce, and should be brought down to date," the report says. It also declares that suspension or revocation of licenses has been found to be the best method of dealing with speeders.

ROBBERS GET $25,000 IN GEMS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 25.—Two robbers held up two employees of John Cohen, diamond dealer, on the fifth floor of a Nassau street building today and escaped with $25,000 worth of unset stones.

The employees, who had just opened the Cohen office, were Anna Goodstein, bookkeeper, and Jacob Levine, salesman. Most of the stones were taken from Levine's pocket. He had just taken them from the safe, prepared to go out and sell them.

Miss Goodstein and Levine were warned not to make an outcry for two minutes after the robbers left, or two confederates in the hallway would "take" care of them.

SAINTLY TOMBS IN MILAN RIFLED OF COSTLY JEWELS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Milan, Italy, Jan. 25.—A mysterious sacrilege of the Cathedral of St. Ambrose was discovered today when it was found that three saintly tombs had been rifled of jewels of fabulous value. Thieves had broken open the tombs of St. Ambrose, St. Gervase and St. Protase. After robbing the coffins of their costly contents, the sepulchres were again sealed and to all outside appearance were intact. The robbery was discovered accidentally through ceremonies attendant upon the death of the late pope.

CABINET FINDS AGAINST INDEPENDENCE FOR EGYPT

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 25.—The cabinet, in discussing the demands of the Egyptian Nationalists, has decided that, while some concessions may be made, complete independence is impossible. It was learned this afternoon.

Announcement was made at 10 Downing street that the government will support any measures adopted by General Lord Allenby, the British high commissioner, for suppression of the Egyptian boycott.

4-TON KINGSTON PRODUCT STARTS TRIP TO VERA CRUZ

The Universal Road Machinery Company of this city has just shipped a large 10 foot Gayco-Emerick air separator weighing over four tons to parties owning a tale mine in Pueblo, Vera Cruz. The separator goes by steamer from New York city to its destination.

The company has also built the large smoke stack for the Kingston Gas & Electric Company, and is installing the same at the plant in Ponckhockie.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 25.—Fire in the business district caused $400,000 damage early today.

SOVIETS GRATEFUL FOR U. S. RELIEF

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Moscow, Jan. 25, via Berlin, Jan. 25.—George Tchitcherin, commissar for foreign affairs in the Soviet, in behalf of the Russian government, addressed the people, today addressed a letter to the United States thanking the American people and government for their assistance to the famine sufferers.

The letter was entrusted to George B. Baker, of the American Relief Administration, who is leaving for the United States. It is believed here that the document is proof of the better understanding that is developing between Russia and the United States. It is pointed out that the Russian government and American relief workers when the latter first came to this country, is rapidly disappearing.

The letter conveys the "deeply felt tribute and the gratitude and admiration of all Russians for the magnificent humanitarian actions of the Americans, saving thousands of the men, women and children from the very jaws of death."

Growing tribute is paid to the devotion of the American relief workers who have been laboring for months amidst the ruins of what was once a great and populous district. Those workers, says the letter, have never allowed fatigue or danger to stop their labors.

GENOA FAILURE WITHOUT U. S.?

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 25.—The report from Washington that the United States may refuse to participate in the international economic conference at Genoa, has raised new obstacles, for Great Britain, it was admitted in circles close to Downing Street today, Premier Lloyd-George had hoped to carry on the work started in the Washington conference. It was for this reason, it was explained, that Russia and Germany were invited.

It is possible that the British and French foreign ministers at their meeting in Paris next month, may discuss means to bring America into the conference.

Premier Lloyd-George is understood to consider the Genoa conference vital to European politics and the chief agency for the restoration of pre-war economic conditions. But he insists that the presence of the United States is necessary to insure the success of the meeting.

The Daily News, Manchester Guardian and the Daily Herald, all united today in the prediction that the conference will fail unless the United States takes part in it.

W. B. MARTIN TO RUN KINGSTON PRINT SHOP

A certificate has been filed in the office of the Ulster county clerk by Alderman William B. Martin of 28 Taylor street, that he intends to conduct a business at 2 Hurley avenue, corner Washington avenue under the name and style, "The Kingston Print Shop." Mr. Martin was for twenty years connected with the job department of the Kingston Leader but severed his connection with that company several months ago to conduct the Tannersville Times-Record with Walter Van Steenburgh, which business they sold a few weeks ago.

DI SCOTTO BANK TO PAY PART OF ITS DEBTS.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 25.—The suspended Banco Italiana Di Scotto at Rome will be able to pay 80 per cent of its debts, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from that city today. The deficit is estimated at 1,265,000 lire. The pre-war value of the lire in American money was 19 cents and three mills.

POPE'S BURIAL ON THURSDAY

Church Politics And Press Comment As To Quirinal-Vatican Relations Disturb Cardinal—Use of Money Charged.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rome, Jan. 25.—The entombment of the mortal remains of Pope Benedict XV will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, it was announced at the Vatican today. The decision to hold the funeral tomorrow was taken by a congregation of cardinals while the body was lying in state in the basilica of St. Peter's today. Early in the day the body was viewed by undertakers who injected preserving fluid.

As the lying-in-state period of the late Pope Benedict XV drew to a close today, heated controversies arose over church politics and the policy pursued by Cardinal Gasparri, Papal secretary of state to the Italian government.

Members of the Italian parliament who are not affiliated with the clerical party, have prepared a series of interpellations for Premier Bonomi demanding a full explanation of the attitude of the quirinal toward the Vatican.

Blister comment appeared in the press, certain newspapers accusing Cardinal Gasparri of having officiously communicated news of the pontiff's death to the Italian government thus renewing diplomatic relations which had been severed since 1870.

It was stated that the cardinal had not yet reached a definite decision as to when the three decisions should be sealed for entombment in a crypt.

There is growing belief that the conclave of cardinals, which was originally set for February 2, will be postponed a few days to enable the American and other cardinals coming from far away places, to participate in the Papal election.

Interest in the election, however, centers for the most part upon sensational allegations that have been made in the press regarding the use of money. The Giornale d'Italia alleges that 5,000,000 lire were deposited in a Rome bank in support of propaganda in favor of the election of an Italian cardinal.

The Popolo Romano accuses Cardinal Merry Del Val of engineering a plot among the cardinals for the election of a German Pope, thus preventing reconciliation between the Vatican and the Italian state. This newspaper took it for granted that only an Italian Pope could bring about such a reconciliation.

The Tribune interviewed an unnamed cardinal who declared that "he was disgusted with the attempts to prepare for a conclave in the same way that American politicians prepared for the election of a president."

"I cannot hide my disgust," said this cardinal. "In America the way is prepared for a presidential election with newspaper campaigns backed up with funds of millions of dollars. That should never happen in the election of a Pope. The Prime Minister, he is in the Italian throne accompanied by Admiral Bonaldi, visited St. Peter's Cathedral and knelt before the catafalque containing the body of the late Pope. After paying homage, they departed for the Quirinal. This was accepted as further evidence that complete reconciliation between the Vatican and the Italian state is at hand. It is believed that if Cardinal Mafti, archbishop of Pisa, is chosen Pope, the final ceremonies restoring the old-time relations will have been effected before the end of 1929."

King is personally well known to King Victor Emmanuel, having acted as confidential messenger for the Vatican in the past.

SUPREME DICTATOR VISITS KINGSTON LODGE OF MOOSE.

Secretary of Labor Davis, Founder, Expected Soon.

James F. Griffin supreme dictator of Boston, Mass.; William H. Nast, supreme trustee of Long Island City, and William J. Bennett, district director of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, paid an official visit to Kingston Lodge, 979, Loyal Order of Moose, on Tuesday evening and before the largest assembly of Moose ever gathered in Kingston gave to members a rare treat in hearing for the first time the principles, aims and objects of the order given by men who have grown up in the Moosehead institution.

Supreme Dictator Griffin is imbued with the spirit of child welfare and gave an eloquent address on that theme.

The local lodge feels that it has been paid a signal honor in having these eloquent and generous hearted men give to them their time and efforts in order that the work being done by this organization shall be known to all Kingston.

Moosehead has now one thousand two hundred and thirty-seven fatherless and motherless orphans within its confines, making of them real men and women of the future.

Secretary of the department of labor at Washington, James J. Davis, who is the founder of Moosehead, will in the near future pay a visit to this lodge.

A Bowler Step Forward.

Moscow, Jan. 25.—Beginning February 1, the soviet government of Russia will resume full liability for all goods transmitted over Russian railways. It was announced today.

This is another step by the government in its new economic policy to encourage private commercial enterprises.

COUNTY COURT GETS MORE FINES

Lavine, "Knock-out Drop" Dispenser, and Wolf, Liquor Law Violator, Plead Guilty and Pay $700—Court Warns Liquor Fines May Be Increased—Jurors Discharged.

Seven hundred dollars in fines were collected in a half hour session of county court this morning.

Abraham Lavine of New York, who was caught peddling "knock-out drops" among the laborers at Shandaken, was allowed to plead guilty to violating section 1754 of the penal law and paid a fine of $500. Judge William D. Brimmer, Jr., appeared for defendant. Lavine was sentenced by Judge Fowler to pay a fine of $500 to the county of Ulster or spend 11 months in the county jail. He paid the fine.

John Wolf of Aheel street, through his attorney, Andrew J. Cook, entered a plea of guilty to having intoxicating liquors in his possession unlawfully. He paid a fine of $200. In imposing sentence Judge Fowler stated that the fine, although light, would be the same as in the other liquor cases which were disposed of on Tuesday, when several defendants entered pleas of guilty. The amount of the fines in the future, however, Judge Fowler, stated would be of such sum as the court deemed sufficient, but as this was the first that defendants had been allowed to plead guilty in liquor cases the fines were small.

At future terms of court defendants may not be dealt with so lightly.

District Attorney Traver announced that so far as he knew there probably would not be any work for the jurors at this term of court, there being but one case which might be tried with a jury. As this case was not certain to be tried Judge Fowler discharged the jurors for the term. The Pardo and Joseph Crotty cases were announced ready by William D. Brimmer, Jr., attorney for defendants, but were not ready on the part of The People.

Court went into recess until 2 o'clock this afternoon when other cases may be disposed of without a jury.

DISTRICT DEPUTY AND OTHERS VISIT NO. 10 LODGE

Two Sons of Worshipful Master Take First Degree.

Right Worshipful Philip A. Goodwin of Cossackie, district deputy grand master of the Ulster-Genoa county Masonic district, made an official visit to Kingston Lodge, No. 10, Free and Accepted Masons, at its regular communication Tuesday evening. The meeting was largely attended by members of the craft.

District Deputy Goodwin was accompanied by a number of past district deputies and past masters of the lodge. He was introduced by Right Worshipful John E. Krait and was welcomed on behalf of the lodge by Worshipful Master Charles B. Everett, to which he made appropriate response. In his address, Right Worshipful Goodwin outlined the aims of Masonry and what it is doing in the world.

The first degree was conferred on a class of five candidates, two of whom were sons of Worshipful Master Everett, an occurrence most unusual in any lodge.

A resolution was adopted inviting the members of Jamaica Lodge of Jamaica, Long Island, to attend the conferring of the third degree at a date to be designated, later, which will probably be during the spring.

At the banquet which followed the communication, Past Master Robert E. Leighton presided as toastmaster and speeches were made by Right Worshipful Brother Heath of Catskill; Right Worshipful Brother Strong of Schoenectady; Right Worshipful Brother Lincoln of Woodstock; Right Worshipful Philip A. Goodwin of Cossackie; Right Worshipful Joseph Drake of New York and others.

MELLON DAMPENS BONUS PROMOTERS

His Statement That Use of Foreign Debt For That Purpose Doesn't Shift Burden From Taxpayers Embarrasses Backers of Republican Plan.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 25.—The dark picture of the nation's finances drawn by Secretary Mellon and the hard jolt he administered to the Republican plan for a soldiers' bonus financed by taxation and the foreign debt, threw grim shadows over a joint meeting today of the steering committees of the Republicans and Democrats which was held to break the legislative logjam confronting Congress.

Mellon's renewed opposition to a soldiers' bonus did not surprise the Republican leaders, committed to one Mellon has repeatedly opposed a soldiers' bonus on the grounds that the country cannot afford one, and that if one were undertaken, it would result in disastrous financial consequences.

But it proved disconcerting to the Republican leaders, when they are seeking to push through legislation coupling the funding of the foreign debt with a soldiers' bonus, to have the secretary of the treasury warn them sharply that no indirect means of financing a soldiers' bonus by using other principal or interest of the foreign debt "could make it any less an expense that will have to be borne in the long run by the taxpayers."

They found his blunt declaration that such means would jeopardize the runding of Liberty Bonds, Victory Notes, certificates of indebtedness and other outstanding obligations of the government, running into billions, equally embarrassing despite the knowledge they had previously that he was prepared to stand again in the way of the Republican pledge for adjusted compensation for ex-service men.

They were insistent, however, that a way must be found for carrying out that pledge despite the serious obstacles suddenly conjured by Mellon, and as the members of the Republican steering committee bent themselves to the task of working out a legislative program on which the senate and house might both agree, the thought of this year's congressional elections and of the effect of a Republican failure to put through a soldiers' bonus would have upon them, was uppermost in the minds of not only the party "whips," but of the Republican rank and file of both chambers.

FARMERS UPHOLD GROUP MARKETING

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 25.—Backed by publicly expressed support from President Harding, farmers of the country here today at the national agricultural conference, launched a vigorous drive for the right to act collectively in cooperative marketing of their products.

They challenged the legality of either federal or state governments to deny them organization and hurried a warning to the nation that interference in the fulfillment of their plan will result in "endless conflict and confusion."

Through G. Harold Powell, of Los Angeles, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, and other speakers from all sections of the United States, the farmer delegates initiated concerted demand that the legislative bodies of the country give them legal power to organize.

Delegates openly declared their demand not inconsistent with protection of the anti-trust act. They promised to press the conference to go on record as favoring a nation-wide cooperative marketing scheme.

Particularly the whole program of today's sessions was given over to discussion of the need of an open market for farming products and the presentation of an outline of the fundamentals of the system. Cotton and grain producers joined with fruit growers, cattle men and the representatives of the other varied phases of agriculture in voicing this demand.

"Farmers should have the legal right to organize to act collectively, and to form purchasing, warehousing and distributing agencies, and to acquire and disseminate information for the orderly purchasing, distributing and marketing of their products," Powell told the conference. "They should be enabled to finance their undertaking and be permitted to handle their questions as distinct agricultural problems. They should also have the legal right to sell in open competition, through a central agency, and to determine the prices which fairly reflect the law of supply and demand."

Powell held that the legality of a cooperative marketing agency should not be tested either by its form or the methods of procedure employed in transacting business, unless "it shall be shown to be contrary to public interest."

HARVEST ICE IN ZERO WEATHER

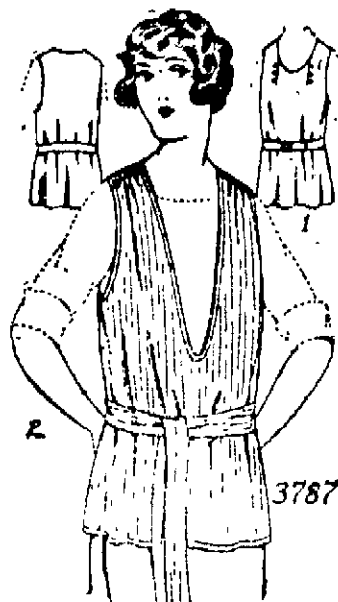

State Troopers Will Guarding Ice Harvesters at Turkey Point on Thursday.

The Hudson river ice harvest is progressing rapidly with zero weather prevailing. The Knickerbocker Ice Company expects to fill the big house at South Rondout on Friday and the High Hook house on Saturday. The East Kingston house will be filled by Monday or Tuesday, weather conditions permitting.

The work of filling the big house at Eopous and the one at Turkey Point will start Thursday morning. Both houses are owned by the Knickerbocker Ice Company. State troopers are still on guard at High Hook. As conditions had quieted on Tuesday it was decided that the troopers would not be needed today, but the strikers from Glasco were alleged to have made threats that they would throw those who continued at work into the canal. There is a gang of ice workers that go on duty at 4 o'clock in the morning getting things in readiness for the other workers. To protect this gang from assault the state troopers rolled out of bed early enough to get to the scene at the time the men reported for work today.

The ice being harvested this winter from the river and Rondout creek is of exceptionally fine quality. The local retail ice dealers who cut and harvest their own ice crop have also secured fine crops of the best ice from the Blinwaters, the Rondout creek and smaller streams. The weather this morning was as cold as Tuesday morning when thermometers on the Strand at 7 o'clock registered zero, and this morning at the same hour the zero mark was touched. Both Monday and Tuesday nights the temperature dropped below zero and in places as low as 10 below was reported.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Popular Simple Style.

Pattern 3787 supplies two attractive over blouse models in this illustration. It is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 2 1/4 yards of 36 inch material.

Mohair in "drop stitch" and other weaves, crepe, velvet, satin, Jersey cloth, also linen, chambray, challis and flannel are good materials for this style.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1921 catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating) 30 of the various, simple stitches, all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

THE TIME TO TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

When You Feel a Little "Off" it Will Bring You Back to Health

Some people never need any medicine at all. They are, as the saying goes, "strong as a bull." They are mighty lucky. Most people need a good tonic once in a while. They take cold, or through overwork or social activity do not get enough sleep; many eat improper food and thus hurt the digestion. It is mighty wise to take Gude's Pepto-Mangan with the meals for a few weeks and build up. One cannot have too much good health. Pepto-Mangan gives you plenty of red blood, and everybody knows that red blood means feeling good and looking good all the time. Sold by druggists in liquid and tablet form.—Advertisement.

USE SLOAN'S TO WARD OFF PAIN

LITTLE aches grow into big pains unless warded off by an application of Sloan's. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stiff joints, lame back won't fight long against Sloan's Liniment.

FINGERPRINT EXPERTS OF DEFENSE CONTRADICT STATE.Arbuckle Trial, Now Being Speeded Up.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—The case of "Fatty" Arbuckle was being speeded up today. In the hearing, the jury is already tired of the long-drawn-out proceedings. The comedian's attorneys plan to cut his case in as short a time as possible.

Several witnesses were scheduled to be called to tell of occasions on which they observed Virginia Rappe, with responsibility for whose death Arbuckle is charged, tear her clothing in apparent paroxysms of pain.

Carlson, who described himself as the originator of the theory he preferred the term fact that fingerprints may be forged, reported called to controvert the state's fingerprint evidence, was on the stand as court opened.

He testified that he found no "perfectly pronounced peculiarities" in the fingerprint impressions on the door of room 1219 of the hotel in which the Arbuckle party was held and which E. O. Heinrich, late expert, identified as those of Arbuckle superimposed over those of Virginia Rappe.

He stated, however, that there were in his opinion similarities between the alleged fingerprints between the defendant and those of Heinrich made on the opposite side of the door for purposes of demonstration to the jury.

Adolph Juel, of the San Francisco police department, also testified he found no resemblance between Arbuckle's fingerprints and those on the door.

Kate Brennan, energetic chambermaid, again furnished the high light of humor in the second trial. In her thick brogue, she told of the $250 tip given her by Arbuckle when she cleaned his room and of his offering her a drink with the remark: "Anybody with a map like yours ought to like a drink of liquor."

Chimney Fire at Forsyth Home.

The burning of Christmas creches and other decorations in a fireplace at the Forsyth residence, corner of Pearl and Fair streets, about ten o'clock this morning caused a chimney fire. A still alarm was sent to Wiltwyck Hose Company, which extinguished the blaze with the aid of chemicals.

MORAN AND MILLARD AND
HIS BARTENDER GIVE BOND.To Appear for Trial in District Court in New York.

Tuesday afternoon at Newburgh Joseph Moran of this city, Isaac W. Millard of the Mitchell House, Ellenville, and the bartender at the latter hotel, were arraigned before District Commissioner Collins. Moran was charged with selling and Millard with having in his possession liquor in violation of the Voistead act. The Mitchell House bartender was also charged with selling. The testimony of the enforcement officers who made the arrests was taken and defendants put in their answers.

To answer to the charge of selling a bond in $1,000 was given by those so charged and a bond of $500 for having liquor in his possession was given by Millard, all to appear when called in U. S. district court in New York city for trial.

INDUSTRIAL ART CONFERENCE
AT Poughkeepsie Friday

The annual Drawing and Industrial Arts Conference for Ulster, Orange, Dutchess and Putnam counties will be held at the Poughkeepsie high school on Friday, January 27. A large attendance of teachers is expected. Mr. Winslow of the state department will be one of the speakers. He will bring to the conference a valuable collection of medallions and special medals by distinguished American sculptors. Miss Knapp of the state department has chosen as her subject, "Fundamentals." Miss Fritz, representing Brown Robertson Company, Madison avenue, New York city, will show a collection of pictures for school room decoration. There will be interesting exhibits from various schools and discussions along lines of industrial art work of interest to teachers.

Get a FREE $1.00 Package of Genuin Yogan Vitamin Tablets Today as Explained Below—Try Them for Ten Days and Watch the Results

Science has at last shown how we can grow strong, healthy, and beautiful. It is by the use of an abundance of food (lacking in vitamins) while with a much smaller amount of food, rich in vitamins, we may quickly take on good firm flesh, increase in weight, energy and obtainable gain in strength, energy and endurance, provided your blood contains sufficient quantity of oxygenated red blood cells to enable your body to assimilate your food properly.

Without organic iron from food and vitamins are absolutely useless as your body cannot change them into blood. Genuin Yogan Vitamin Tablets contain organic iron and vitamins in a form that your body can change into blood. Often contain drugs.

REPORT AGAINST NORTHERN CANAL MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, N. Y., Jan. 25.—The second part of the state commission in opposition to the St. Lawrence ship canal and power project, which was submitted to the legislature today by Senator L. W. H. Gibbs of Buffalo, chairman declared that neither the present or prospective tonnage of the Great Lakes, destined for the sea-board, is sufficient to warrant the construction and operation of the proposed improvement.

It also raises the question of international complications. "Each nation is supposed to be independent and the other in all its activities, and neither nation ought to be in partnership with others in any such project as that in question," the report says. "New York state favors the development of the water-power in the St. Lawrence entirely independent and not tacked on, nor concealed under the project of navigation, and to that end it will insist on the development of such water-power south of the international boundary under its supervision and as a matter of state ownership."

The question is asked if it is wise for the two governments to tie up their national resources in a joint project in a way that may give rise to serious complications, in the event of differences between Canada or the United States with any foreign power.

MINERS PRESENT CASE TO GOVT

Average But 1 to 3 Days' Work Each Week and Actual Want Confirms Thousands, Say Hard Coal Diggers of District No. 2.—Ask if Government to Helpless in Crisis.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 25.—"Is the government helpless to evolve any plan for meeting the crucial emergency of the miners?" ask officials of District No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, in an appeal addressed today to President Harding, Vice President Coolidge, the speaker of the house, members of congress and the federal trade commission. The appeal, which is signed by President John Brophy, Vice President James Mark and Secretary-Treasurer Richard Gilbert, of District No. 2, demands a "formal effective governmental investigation" of labor conditions in the coal fields of the country.

The communication exposes the situation of miners in the bituminous fields but it is considered of importance by anthracite miners because District President Brophy was one of the principal speakers at last week's tri-district convention at Shamokin.

"The undersigned, representing 43,000 coal miners, in central Pennsylvania," says the appeal, "have been directed by the executive board of district No. 2 of the United Mine Workers of America to bring to the attention of the national government, the facts of a serious situation and to ask of the government certain questions."

"The facts as we know them in our own wide district, comprising a large section of Pennsylvania, are, in brief, that a year's intermittent employment has left huge numbers of the miners with such depleted resources that in thousands of cases actual want confronts the miners' families, and in thousands of other cases the standards of living are going down. The miners of the district have averaged only from one to three days a week for nearly a year. Their resources in the midst of the winter are vanishing. The present condition of thousands of their families should refute conclusively the reckless assertions of high war wages piled up by miners."

"In the past few weeks our local and district organizations have been driven to attempt that which the coal industry should long ago have been forced to do under governmental pressure. We are appropriating and paying out what small sums we can muster as a sort of unemployment relief."

"Through no fault of their own, miners in this district who during the war strained every muscle at the government's call, to produce, produce, now find themselves with nothing to live on through the winter. Thousands of women and children lack the common necessities, let alone any approach to an American standard of living."

"And what is true of our 43,000 miners, is true of half a million more miners in union and non-union fields alike. We are no exception; it is the same in the midwest and the south and the far west. From the small collective resources of the locals and district organizations, pitiful efforts are being dropped into a sea of demoralizing living conditions."

"The present managers of the coal industry have shown themselves helpless even to plan relief. Nursing their unconscionable war profits and watching only for rising prices with vague expectations of a harvest reaped from a coal scarcity, they answer all our efforts for betterment with cuts for reduced wages. They don't even pretend to prove that cutting wages would revive the chances of work. They admit that in the steel industry the wages of helpless, unorganized men have been ruthlessly slashed 40, 50 and 60 per cent, for the past year and still the coal demand is only a fraction of normal."

Mary Bug Varieties. We have in the United States a long list of insects we usually designate as beetles. There are some 15,000 different kinds of them, and they range in size all the way from little ones that it almost requires the use of a microscope to see, to such giants as the Spotted Horn beetle.—American Forestry Magazine.

Y. M. C. A. SECURES 50 NEW MEMBERS

The captains and a number of workers held a session the early part of the week in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. membership canvass. Charles R. O'Connor, the chairman of the campaign, was pleased with the report already made. Fifty members had then been secured leaving sixty-four more to come by Monday night, the 30th, in order to bring the membership up to 500.

Many men who have been members in time back are again becoming members of the Young Men's Christian Association. These men realize that the more members the Association has the greater work it can do. Kingston can well be proud of its Association building, for it is well equipped and has many advantages over a number of Y. M. C. A. buildings in other cities of the same size.

The business men's classes and other classes in the gymnasium have been steadily growing. There is yet four months of hard work to be done in the physical department before the summer season sets in. It is hoped that many of the young men and business men of the city who for one reason or another have not found it convenient to join earlier in the season will readily make application now.

The final meeting of this particular campaign will close on Monday night, January 30th. The captains and workers are anxious for a good response from their prospects on or before that date.

P. T. A. CONFERENCE AT HIGH SCHOOL THURSDAY

The officers of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Poughkeepsie district, which include Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Middletown and Kingston and also the small towns in the vicinity of these cities, will hold a conference at the high school on Thursday afternoon, January 26, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Belden H. Hall of Poughkeepsie, who is the district chairman, will preside at the conference. All the officers of all the Parent-Teacher Associations in this city are most cordially invited to attend and also all other members. The meeting will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock, in order that the district members may reach their homes in the evening.

GLASCO.

Glasco, Jan. 25.—The Glasco Methodist Sunday school had a contest for membership during October, November and December. Miss Olive Barclay of Ashokan called on Mrs. George Ebel Friday. Mrs. John Young is seriously ill.

PAY TRIBUTE TO THE LOST

Primitive Japanese Have Ritual for the Souls of Wild Geese That Never Will Return.

A most charming bath custom observed every spring, even to this day, in the fishing villages on the shores of the Pacific ocean, the Soto Gu Hana, the "outside shores" as the Japanese call them, is the gannet.

These village people tell how the geese which come flying across the seas to winter in the land of the rising sun always carry in their bills a small piece of wood. When they are worn out from flying, the long lines of the migrating birds are halted by their leaders and then they settle in the sea for a rest before continuing their flight. This piece of wood is carried to serve them as a rest to float on while they refresh their wearied wings. When the geese reach the outer shores of Japan they no longer need these wood floats and they drop them just where they land. Now the good village folk know that these visiting geese need these floats again, and they never burn or use them in any way all the cold winter long. In the spring when it is time for the geese to make their way home to the north again they all flock to the shores where they landed and each goose picking up the float he brought with him takes to the air and flies home over the seas.

But there are many geese which never live to take the homeward path again and when all the living geese are gone away there still remains a sad, pathetic pile of floats which no geese will ever come to claim again.

The fishing folk are a simple folk and their hearts are clean and kind. Here on the "outside shores" they gather all the floats no geese have come to take, and carrying them to the nearby temples prepare a mighty fire beneath a huge kettle filled with water from the temple well. Then, while the fire burns the priests pray for the souls of the geese who will never return. All the villagers then enter the great kettle and bathe in the water heated by the burning floats. For it is proper and good when man's are said for the souls of the dead that a present should be given to all who attend the sacred ceremony. And this bath, heated with the little legacy the geese have left behind, is the present the villagers who so simply and kindly offer prayers, receive for their thoughtful regard for the dead geese's souls.—Exchange.

Forest Menarch Gone.

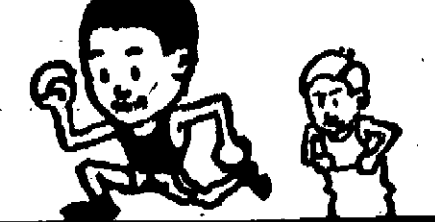

The Redier National forest has lost a king. A giant spruce tree whose age is estimated at 4,000 years, has fallen a victim to the recent north-west storm. This specimen of the earliest of Pacific coast trees measured 19 feet thick at the place where it was broken. Forest rangers will attempt to count its rings to determine definitely its age. The tree stood near the road leading to Mount Rainier and has been viewed by thousands of tourists. At Raymond, near here, several cedar trees, long revered by the forest dwellers as menarches, were blown down. One was 11 feet in diameter at stump height and the other about 100 feet. Not for years have so many gigantic trees fallen in storms as during the recent sleet and snow burricanes.

You wouldn't put on hobbles to run a foot race

Then why load up on handicaps for the day's work?

A good deal of food, unwisely chosen, does weigh the body down and clog the digestion, and dull the brain.

Why put on the hobbles?

Grape-Nuts is a breakfast or lunch-time dish for those who want food efficiency, and mind and body efficiency.

Grape-Nuts satisfies and nourishes. It delights the taste. It is ready to serve whenever you are ready to eat. And it digests easily, quickly and completely—leaving no handicap of heaviness and drowsiness.

Grape-Nuts is the food for health and action.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

CAT'S FINISHING SCHOOL

Meow said the Black Cat.

"I have something to tell you," said the Black Cat, "and it is something quite funny."

"I never knew you thought things were funny," said the Gray Cat. "I don't get easily amused myself, and I fancied you were the same way. I don't laugh. Now, does it amuse you to hear me do other animals?"

"Little Kittens."

"I have heard how the little prairie dogs laugh. But we don't. At least, I should say I am quite sure I don't."

"Neither do I," said the Black Cat. "Neither do I know how to."

"But the Black Cat said that."

"I do not mean that I like something to tell you. I like to make you laugh. But I have something to tell you which will make you laugh. You will hear a mouse."

"Tell it to me," said the Gray Cat. "I have work to do in the kitchen."

"Did you hear a mouse?" said the Black Cat.

"That's not for me to tell," said the Gray Cat, mulling his whiskers.

"I know from the look in your eye that you only want to tell me that the mouse is not here. The only reason you don't tell me is because you are a mouse hunter and you don't want to tell me that you have a mouse here."

"I'm not saying anything," said the Gray Cat.

"You don't have to," said the Black Cat.

"But I was going to tell you, the Black Cat continued, 'that cat real is going to finishing school.'"

"What?" asked the Gray Cat. "Meow, meow, meow, what is that you say?"

"I said that cat really went to finishing school," said the Black Cat. "I mean it, too."

"What in the world are finishing schools?" asked the Gray Cat. "I don't really like to know. I really do not understand you, you see."

"Finishing schools," said the Black Cat, "are schools where people finish up their education. In other words, they learn all the last and final things. They learn to be very superior and to act very well and to sound very wise."

"The cats go to finishing schools, too?"

"Where?" asked the Gray Cat. "To the kitchen, principally."

"Where?" asked the Gray Cat, in a very surprised tone. "Meow, meow, meow, what is that you say?"

"I say we go to finishing schools," said the Black Cat, "and that is right. And we go principally to the kitchen. They are our schools."

"This is what I mean. We learn to be gentle and to purr and to treat people pleasantly and such things in our finishing schools."

"We are not really so different from our wild relations except we have been to these finishing schools and have learned from people the last touches which have made us polished and superior and well-mannered."

"Some creatures are intelligent and wonderful, whether they are with people or not. The Chimpanzee and such creatures are wise and wonderful, and they don't really need finishing schools. They will do marvellous things without going to schools."

"But we have given up our wild ways because we love comfort and because we have lived among people, not because we could have taught ourselves these ways as the Chimpanzee family could have done."

"Well, I think that is so," agreed the Gray Cat. "But now I must leave you. I have an engagement."

"So have I," said the Black Cat, and went along, too.

SEASONABLE DAINTIES

A very pretty and tasty dish that may be prepared for company is:

Pimento Sauce.—Put through a meat grinder one can, six red peppers, add two teaspoonsful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of sugar, one-half cupful of oil, and three pinches of chicken stock. Let come to the boiling point and serve in cups.

Cottage Cheese Salad.—In lettuce arrange a circle of seasoned rice, cottage cheese, in the center put yolk of hard cooked egg also seasoned and hard. Any dressing desired may be used.

Carrot Marmalade.—Take one and a half pounds of young carrots, grate and put them through a meat grinder. Add two lemons cut in bits with the seeds removed, put into a double boiler and cook. Combine with an equal weight of sugar and cook up till thick. Place in glasses and seal with paraffin when cold.

Jugged Hare.—Take one hare, one quarter of a pound of fat bacon, one and one-half teaspoonsful of powdered herbs, six small green onions or one greenized onion, one tomato, or its equivalent in canned tomato, a table-spoonful of cranberry jelly, the juice of half a lemon, two table-spoonfuls of flour, salt to taste and one pint of stock. Cut the hare into pieces and cut the hare into joints. Fry the hare and fry the pieces of hare. Put hare, bacon and shallots or onion with half a table-spoonful of ham chopped, one-half table-spoonful of herbs, one table-spoonful of chopped parsley, half a grated lemon rind, one table-spoonful of salt, a quarter of a table-spoonful of pepper, a dusting of cayenne, three chopped mushrooms and two eggs. Mix all well, lay inside the hare and sew up. Place strips of fat bacon over the back of the hare and roast one and one-half hours. Fifteen minutes before taking up add the cranberry jelly. Take up the hare and make a sauce by thickening with flour and butter mixed together.

If you want to use this as ordinary milk in cooking, you just add an equal part of water, for this is rich, "creamy milk."

Where the real "cream" effect is wanted, use it undiluted.

Please do not think of this as just "evaporated milk." If you don't particularly ask for Dairy-men's League Brand when you buy, you may get some other kind that will not be "creamy milk."

It comes in 1 lb. and baby-size 6 oz. cans. Dairy-men's League Sweetened Condensed Milk in 14 oz. cans.

GIVE FLAPPERS AIR, SAY THESE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 23.—A campaign to save the flapper is on. Give her air, say the national executives of the campaign girls who are in conference here today.

But let the air be fresh air, these executives advocated, asserting that young girls who inhale the unwholesome atmosphere of the flapper are less likely to fall into the hands of folly. These executives said the flapper, when "fresh-air'd" would give up jazz, bobbed hair and unwholesome habits.

"All that is needed to change a flapper into a sweet wholesome American girl, is to interest her in the outdoors and provide recreation and work that will give her the stimulation she now gets from jazzing and lurid movies," said Lester F. Scott of New York.

"Girls wouldn't get homesick for Broadway if their interest was aroused in outdoor pleasures," said Miss Edith Tubbs of Stockton, Cal.

"Girls who have plenty of outdoor sports and other wholesome fun to amuse them, don't care for jazz dances, they don't bob their hair and they don't want to spoon."

Miss Grace Brown, of Detroit, declared "girls should never be told not to bob their hair or not to do this or that."

"They should have no inhibitions," she said. "Normal healthy girls don't and they don't care for a jazzy life," said Miss Brown.

All the members of the conference said that the flapper is not to blame. And they all declared that nothing was wrong with the modern girl except her parents.

"We are faced again and again with the despairing cry: 'What are the girls of today coming to, what is the matter with the modern girl?'" said Scott, the only man participating in the conference.

"There is nothing the matter with the modern girl but there are a great many things the matter with the modern girl's surroundings."

"The modern life of the adolescent boy and girl is not essentially interesting. What interests on the growing girls have which are too few now presented by modern cramped life. Her amusements are none of her own creating and her emotions and enjoyments are most entirely vicarious. She lives at a tremendous rate of speed. She crowds into 20 minutes, those emotions which takes her years to create."

"We are so used to handing things over to the city or state to manage that the family doesn't amount to anything now and parents have grown lazy."

ON-A-JOB, OFF-A-JOB JIM!

Being a Story
Of how Jim got on a job and why he got off it again.

During his trips as plumber's assistant, Jim journeyed over a river where he was attracted by the strange sight of numerous canvas butts scattered here and there on the frozen surface. Of inquiring mind, he walked out over the ice to ascertain what was going on, and learned that men had stuck four posts, on which canvas was nailed, into the ice to form a shield against the wind.

Placing the canvas so as to cut off the wind, the men sat on boxes in the sun and fished through holes in the ice which they had cut for the purpose.

"Fishing any good?" asked Jim.

"Fair."

The man held up a large smelt double the average size. "Fourteen pounds this morning. They come in schools. Slow fishin' now."

All the rest of the day, Jim thought about the men on the ice, and that night, he made up his mind to spend the next two days smelt fishing. He bought a number of hooks, made a short pole, one-quarter the regulation smelt pole in length, and bought some clams for bait. He rigged up his canvas windshield, and early in the morning was walking over the ice cakes to take his place among the fishermen. He cut his hole through the ice, baited his hooks and waited.

There were several nibbles, but the morning passed and he had caught nothing.

Exasperated, he walked down to where his informant of the day before was fishing. "Getting anything?"

"Twenty-five pounds already this morning."

"What are you using for bait?" Clams? Then use sea worms. I'll sell you some. And get nearer the men. Smelts bite better when the fishermen are closely bunched."

Jim obeyed with alacrity, and soon after he had cast in his line he got a tremendous nibble. He pulled, but his line refused to be drawn in. Not wishing to break the line or lose his hook, he tugged at it gently, and after a while he was able to draw it in—surprisingly light. Bait gone, no fish.

Jim re-baited and cast once more. Again a nibble. He started to pull and as before his line refused to come being released after a while and found empty. It happened several times before Jim got wise that the current was swinging his line upstream and that the fishermen nearby was capturing his line and his fish. Jim grinned, tied a bunch of old string to his hook and cast it over.

"Take that my friend," he remarked under his breath, as he left the line in while he duck a fresh hole above the fishing neighbor.

Late in the afternoon he went to market with twenty pounds of smelt. Copyright 1922. Alice Williams.

MAGNATES PASSING ON LAND'S DRAFT PLAN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Magnates of the American Association are in session here today to determine their attitude toward the plan for drafting players by major leagues from the minors, which recently was proposed by Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner. Indications as the magnates assembled at the office of President Thomas Hickey, were that much opposition to the draft plan would be put forth.

LOCALS WIN OUT IN EXTRA PERIOD

From Schenectady Team. By 20 to 25 Tally, Nick Harvey. Former Eastern League Star. With Local Club.

Schenectady gave the local club a hard fight at the Armory court Tuesday evening. The game was played thoroughly from start to finish and was one of the best games played in the league this season.

Nick Harvey played guard for the locals and Manager Morgenweck announced that he has joined the local team. Knobloch has been released. Lehr taking the pivot position. Harvey is an Eastern League star and played with Scranton this season. He made a good showing in the local uniform last night. He played an exceptionally good defensive game and the manner in which he handled the ball proved his ability.

The teams played on even terms throughout the struggle, the first half ending 8 to 8 and when the final whistle blew they stood 24 all. In the extra five minutes playing off the tie Artus caged one from the floor and Borgeman made three good shots from the foul line, totaling five points. Smolik shot one from the penalty the only upstater point during this period.

By winning last night's game the local combination landed in fourth place, their standing for the first half of the season. They lost fifteen and won fourteen games. This was a league game as far as the Kingston team was concerned, but will not count for the Schenectady team unless they fulfill their agreement with the president of the league.

Davey was the referee and his decisions met with the approval of the twelve hundred fans who witnessed the game. The usual good dancing followed the game and was enjoyed by a large number. Balfe's Orchestra supplied the music.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS ENTERTAIN AT HOSPITAL

Court Santa Maria, Catholic Daughters of America, entertained the patients of the Tuberculosis Hospital Friday evening, with a pleasing program of delightful numbers, which was highly enjoyed by the patients. Those taking part in the evening's program and other numbers were: Recitation—"Orphan Annie" (James Whitcomb Riley).

Miss Betty Murphy Duet Dance—"Sunbeams"..... The Misses Helen and Angela Cashin Banjo Selection..... John Ernie Reading..... Mrs. George Collier Solo Dance—"The Irish Wash Woman's Reel".....

Miss Anna Arnold O'Leary Solo—"Peggy O'Neil"..... Master Nicholas Murphy Toe Dance—"Butterfly"..... Miss Betty Murphy Vocal Solo—"Selected"..... John Ernie Miss Gertrude Rafferty, pianist.

Ice cream and home made cake was then served. The committee in charge of the entertainment, composed of Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy, chairman; Mrs. Walter C. Miller, Mrs. James R. Hixley, Mrs. Edgar T. Shultis, Mrs. Vincent Gorman, Mrs. Daniel J. Murphy, Mrs. John Reynolds, Miss Margaret Kennedy and Miss Gertrude Rafferty. Much thanks are due Mrs. David Schenck, Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy, and Miss Angela Dwyer for the use of their cars conveying the artists and the committee to and from the hospital.

Old Legend Concerning Fox.
The fox won his reputation for cunning owing to the legend that "when a fox is hungry, it lies down in a furrow of the field and covers itself partly with earth as though it had been long dead. Then the ravens and other rapacious birds come to devour it, at which it suddenly leaps up and tears them to pieces."

REPORT GIVES GLOVERS PENNANT

President Lou Stolz of the New York State Basketball League will award the first half pennant to the Gloversville team within the next few days, the Schenectady franchise having been forfeited and the team ruled out at a special meeting on January 1, according to a well founded report, says the Knickerbocker Press. The announcement has been held secret since that time.

Jerry Sullivan, captain and star guard of the Gloversville team, has been released to Mohawk, while Berg, camp, star back court man of Schenectady, will fill the gap in the Glovers' lineup. Barney Sedran of Mohawk will revert back to the Albany Club for the second half race.

The Gloversville team has completed its half schedule and will meet the Albany team in an exhibition game at the Washington avenue armory on Saturday night.

SAUGERTIES HIGH WINS AND LOSES

When it rains it pours in K. H. S. boys' basketball circles, for the Kingston High Middlets lost a snap-py game to the Saugerties High Middlets Monday evening to the tune of 29 to 25.

But a ray of light which is the precursor of a winning team has descended upon the varsity team, since Vogt and Bob Corrigan will be able to don tog for the K. H. S.-P. H. S. game Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, which will be played in the Kingston High School gymnasium. Crapser, the Poughkeepsie mentor, has a very successful team this season and is confident of an easy victory over Coach Woodard's team. The Poughkeepsie High School Varsity played and won a strenuous game from the Saugerties High Varsity, 23 to 29.
